

Tuesday February 26th

Today is World Spay Day, highlighting the importance of saving animal lives by spaying or neutering.

Time flies - On this day in 2000, Lonestar's "Amazed" hits the top of the all-genre Billboard Hot 100 -

Also - 1991: Tim Berners-Lee introduced WorldWideWeb, the first web browser.

Surgeon General C. Everett Koop died at his home in New Hampshire. He was 96. His cause of death wasn't announced.

If you're looking for a diet that'll keep your heart strong and your taste buds happy, look no further than the Mediterranean way of eating. New studies show that the Mediterranean diet – consisting of fruits, veggies, nuts, olive oil and fish – can cut your risk of stroke and heart disease by a whopping 30%! Eat THAT

Cast for Dancing with the Stars announced this morning on GMA!

According to a BankRate.com survey, 1 in 4 Americans have more credit card debt than savings.

Germiest Places

Restaurant menus

Lemon wedges at restaurants

Condiment dispensers
Restroom door handles
Soap dispensers
Grocery carts
Airplane bathrooms
Doctor's offices

According to a new study, on any given day in the United States, 18 percent of men and 11 percent of women drink more alcohol than federal guidelines recommend.

On Monday, the Wall Street Journal ran an article about the bewildering fall of JC Penney. One thing new management learned as they worked on a resuscitation plan was that the JCP headquarters had grown overstaffed and underproductive. Translation: mostly what employees did was watch YouTube videos. The Average employee was watching 1100 videos a month on the job.

New Mavericks album today!!

Here's a look at the cover to Kenny Chesney's new album, Life on a Rock, due out on April 30th. Kenny wrote eight of the 10 songs, which he says were inspired by his time in the Caribbean

Looks like Taylor Swift might have a new man in her life. T was spotted hitting hotspots around London with British singer Tom Odell while in town for the Brit Awards 2013 last wee

Monday February 25th

If you didn't stay up for the Oscars, the some highlights: Argo won Best Picture. Life Of Pi's Ang Lee was best Director, plus tons of technical awards. Daniel Day Lewis: best actor for

Daily Scoop for week of February 25

Written by Sue Wilson

Monday, 25 February 2013 06:15 - Last Updated Tuesday, 26 February 2013 06:24

Lincoln and Jennifer Lawrence best actress for Silver Linings Playbook. Poor Jen tripped as she went up the steps and received an ovation either for the award, or the fall! Seth MacFarlane was pretty good with a music heavy song and dance open and a few skits with sock puppets and Sally Field.

Also this weekend the Daytona 500 Winner was Jimmy Johnson. And Danica Patrick finished 8th, and ran near the front all day long. She was in the lead for a bit, then 3rd by the last lap and then finished 8th

The announcements for the line-up for Dancing in the Stars are tomorrow, but there have been leaks. Word is: Killie Pickler and Wynonna.

You probably knew on instinct that women talk more than men. But now there's a study that backs it up. New studies show that women have higher levels of "language protein" in our brains than men do. This language protein causes us to speak around 13,000 more words a day than men (20,000 vs 7,000).

According to a new study, the reason so many more men than women drop out of college is because men hate the idea of borrowing money and getting into debt more than women.

Stop wasting so much time online. If you really want to meet someone, get a dog. It turns out that one in four dog owners have met dates while walking their dogs

Guess what's good for your teeth...? Chocolate! A toothpaste called Theodent has recently hit the market, and it promises to strengthen the enamel of teeth by using a natural extract from the cocoa bean.

Kenny Chesney is the highest-ranking country star on Billboard's list of Music's Top 40 Money Makers. His more than $19 million paycheck lands him at number-five on the all-genre list. Madonna holds court as the number-one money maker.

Florida Georgia Line have reached a new milestone -- their debut single, "Cruise," has sold two-million copies